

the style editrix

Sometimes you just need a little break and I can't think of a better way to spend a Friday away from the computer than by heading to lunch at my favorite little spot Mauro's Cafe at Fred Segal (I LOVE the prosciutto sandwich!) and some shopping with your husband! I found this cute white dress last week and Sometimes you just need a little break and I can't think of a better way to spend a Friday away from the computer than by heading to lunch at my favorite little spot Mauro's Cafe at Fred Segal (I LOVE the prosciutto sandwich!) and some shopping with your husband! I found this cute white dress last week and thought it would be super easy to style. This is the dress to wear on your spring vacay, to the office, with flats on a Saturday and all throughout the summer. I love the simplicity of the shape and denim material mixed with the leather detailing on the sleeves. I added a trench for our unpredictable spring weather and a little bit of fun with the pastel snakeskin cage sandals. Shop below to get the look!